THE REPORT OF THE
PRESIDENT OF QUEEN'S COLLEGE, BELFAST, FOR THE SESSION 1888-89.

TO THE QUEEN'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR MAJESTY,—

I have the honour of submitting to Your Majesty my Report on the condition and progress of Queen's College, Belfast, during the Session 1888-89, in conformity with the requirements of the Act of 8th & 9th Victoria, chap. 66, section 20.

The College, I am happy to be able to state, continues to subserve most successfully the purpose for which it was founded, as this is expressed in its Charter, viz.—to afford “to all classes and denominations, without any distinction of religious creed whatsoever, an opportunity for pursuing a regular and liberal course of education.” That this is so will appear from the facts which I shall submit under the various heads of this Report.

THE NUMBER OF STUDENTS.

The number of Students who entered the College for the first time this Session was 126, being 17 more than in the previous year. Of these 106 were Matriculated Students and 20 Non-Matriculated.

The total number of Students of all grades who attended during the Session was—in Arts, 174: in Medicine, 222: in Law, 23: in Engineering, 11. Seven Students attended in more than one Faculty. Allowing for these, the entire number of Students in attendance was 422. When one compares these figures with those for the first Session in which the College was at work, that of 1849-50, the great advance which has been made is at once apparent. The total number of Students in attendance that year was 195, of whom not half had passed the Matriculation Examination.

Seven of our Students, this year, were ladies, all of whom matriculated previous to commencing their attendance. Doubtless many more ladies would resort to our class-rooms, were it not that the College Statutes forbid their holding any of our Scholarships or Prizes. I cannot think that it is right that they should suffer under this disability. There seems to be no good reason why, if ladies have the ability to gain our honours, they should be forbidden to enjoy them. In some way the College ought, I am convinced, to be enabled to encourage their attendance at its classes, and to bestow upon such of them as are found worthy, rewards of merit similar to those which are offered for competition to the members of the stronger sex.

It has been usual, in order to obtain a clear view, on an extended scale, of the state and progress of the College, to compare the numbers of the Students who have entered, and of those who have been in attendance upon, its classes, during each decade of its history. We have now reached the close of the fourth such decennial period, and on making the comparison which I have referred to, we get the following results:—

During the first ten years of the history of the College, 854 Students entered it: during the second ten years, 1,218: during the third, 1,252. In the fourth decennial period, which is just now ended, the number has risen to 1,357. The growing reputation and efficiency of the College are strikingly shown by these figures. During the forty years of its existence 4,681 Students altogether have entered it.

If, from looking at the entrances, we come to consider the average yearly attendances of Students in each of those decades, we obtain again a gratifying result. The average number of Students in attendance during each Session of the first ten years of the history of the College was 189.1; during each Session of the second decade, 368.2; in the third the number rose to 400.3; in the fourth, now ended, it is found to have further risen to 473.4. Comment upon these statistics is unnecessary. They clearly demonstrate the great and growing acceptance which the College enjoys with the people of the North of Ireland.

THE STUDIES AND SUCCESSES OF THE COLLEGE.

I have pleasure in reporting that there has been the usual keen competition for the various College Studentships, Senior and Junior Scholarships, and Class Prizes, and that the answering on which they have been awarded has uniformly been of a very high character.

In addition to their successes in their own College, our Students have continued to carry off a very large share of the Degrees and Honours of the Royal University of Ireland, where they have the opportunity of entering into competition with alumni of other seats of learning in all parts of the country.

At the examinations of this University, held during last academic year, no fewer than 290 Students of this College passed in the various grades. This number was made up thus:—48 passed the First University Examination in Arts; 44 the Second University Examination in Arts; 49 obtained the Degree of B.A.; 7 obtained the Degree of M.A.; 3 obtained the Degree of LL.B.; 2 obtained the Degree of LL.D.; 5 passed the First University Examination in Engineering; 3 passed the Second University Examination in Engineering; 2 obtained the Degree of B.E.; 20 passed the First University Examination in Medicine; 30 the Second University Examination in Medicine; 47 the Third University Examination in Medicine; and 30 Medical Degrees were obtained.

In the same University, Students of this College gained during the year the following Exhibitions, the examinations for which are of a very severe and searching character:—At the Second University Examination in Arts, Mr. Wm. Blair Morton, Mr. James Henry Archer, and Mr. James Lee, all of this College, were adjudged qualified to obtain First Class Exhibitions of £40 each; and Miss Sara Entrican, Mr. Robert Dick Megaw, Mr. Alexander Alfred Dickie, and Mr. William J. Shannon, Exhibitions of £20 each. First Class Exhibitions of £30 were awarded to Mr. Richard C. Heron and Mr. James M. Bradshaw; while Exhibitions of £15 each fell to the lot of Mr. Wm. James Woods, Mr. John Cochrane, and Mr. Wm. J. McCracken.

At the B.A. Degree Examinations, Mr. William M. B. Allison, Mr. William Woods Haslett, Mr. James Alexander Stewart, and Mr. George Woodburn, all of this College, were adjudged qualified by their answering to obtain First Class Exhibitions of £50 each; and Miss Maud Stewart Jackson, Mr. John James Adams, Mr. Robert Montgomery, Mr. John Semple, and Mr. William Henry Williamson, Exhibitions of £25 each. At the First Examination in Engineering Mr. Benjamin Moore obtained an Exhibition of £15. At the First Examination in Medicine Mr. Walter Bold Robertson obtained a First Class Exhibition of £20. At the Second Examination in Medicine Mr. Andrew Fullerton obtained an Exhibition of £15. At the Third Examination in Medicine Mr. John Moore Hall was adjudged to be entitled to a First Class Exhibition of £30. In all, Students of this College were thus awarded 25 of the Exhibitions of the University. The list of the other Honours which they won would be too long to print here. Of these they obtained 90 altogether, making 115 high distinctions, which they gained by their answering. This is a record of which any College might justly be proud.

In other Universities and Colleges they have also during the year gained not a few notable distinctions. I have pleasure in referring to some of these. My predecessor called attention in last year's Report to the brilliant university career of Mr. McFadden Orr, one of the three Senior Wranglers whom this College has produced within the short period of ten years. His former teachers and fellow-students here rejoice to find that he continues to gain high honours in Cambridge. At the recent Summer Examinations he was one of the only two who passed in the First Division of the First Class in Part II. of the Mathematical Tripos.

Mr. Herbert D. Darbishire, B.A., has followed up the previous high distinctions which he obtained by gaining the McMahon Law Scholarship of £150 per annum for four years in St. John's College, Cambridge. Competition for this Scholarship was open to all B.A. Graduates of the College who had the bona fide intention of following the Legal profession.

In the same College Mr. James Lee and Mr. W. B. Morton have obtained Entrance Exhibitions of the value of about £50 per annum for three years each.

In Trinity College, Cambridge, Mr. Robert Montgomery has gained a Foundation Sizarship of the value of £100 per annum for five years, with a Prize and First Class Honours in Classics.

Two of our former Lady Students pursue in Cambridge the same brilliant course which they commenced in this College. I refer to Miss Alice Everett, B.A., and Miss Annie Russell. Last month both obtained high places among the Senior Optimes at the examination for the first half of the Mathematical Tripos.

Mr. W. W. Haslett has gained a Sizarship, together with a Prize of £10 and First Class Honours, in St. John's at the recent May Examinations.

At the same examination, Mr. Alexander took First Class Honours in Mathematics.

Mr. H. W. Major has obtained a Foundation Scholarship of £45 in Queen's College, Cambridge.

Mr. Ernest W. McBride has gained two Exhibitions of £30 per annum each, and a Wright's Prize in St. John's College, Cambridge.

Mr. J. E. Campbell has obtained a Senior Mathematical Scholarship in the University of Oxford, and Mr. W. H. Porter a Second Class in Classical Moderations in the same University.

Mr. D. St. John Herd has gained a Common Law Scholarship at the Middle Temple.

Mr. W. E. P. Cotter has obtained first place in Classics among the Junior Freshmen, and a Classical Scholarship of £80 per annum, in Trinity College, Dublin. In the same College Mr. B. H. Steede, B.A., has gained the Bishop Law Mathematical Premium.

Last spring Dr. John Strahan of this town, in a competition open to the world, gained the Jenks Prize of 250 dollars for an Essay on "The Diagnosis and Treatment of Extra-uterine Pregnancy," the Examiners appointed by the President of the College of Physicians of Philadelphia complimenting him upon "the remarkable excellence" of his work.

I may here be permitted to remark that it was noted with much pleasure in this College that the names of so many of its former Students appeared in the List of Honours published in the Gazette on the occasion of Your Majesty's last birth-day. Among others, Sir Robert Hart, British Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to the Emperor of China; Sir James Russell, Chief Justice of Hong Kong; and Mr. William George Aston, Secretary of Legation in Japan, received high and well merited distinctions. It is a matter of great satisfaction to us to know that so many men trained here are serving Your Majesty with fidelity and success in those parts of Your Majesty's foreign possessions to which they have been sent after passing the ordeal of a severe competitive examination.

THE M'KANE BEQUEST.

I am happy to inform Your Majesty that the late Mr. John M'Kane, M.A., LL.D., has bequeathed a sum of £400 to this College, for the establishment of a Gold Medal, to be awarded annually for proficiency in Political Economy and Jurisprudence. Mr. M'Kane was a Student of our own. In 1875 he was appointed by Your Majesty Professor of English Law in this College, and held the post for ten years with advantage to the Institution and honour to himself. By this bequest he at once demonstrated his interest and confidence in his old alma mater, and provided a valuable stimulus to the study of two most important branches of learning in a form which will worthily perpetuate his own memory. The first M'Kane Gold Medal will be offered for competition next Session.

THE DISCIPLINE OF THE COLLEGE.

All the authorities of the College bear the most gratifying testimony regarding the conduct of the Students. Not a single breach of discipline was brought under the notice of the Council during the Session.

The Deans of Residences, who are entrusted by the Charter of the College with "the moral care and spiritual charge of the Students of their respective creeds," report in equally satisfactory terms. I append the reports which I have received from them. The Rev. S. E. Busby, LL.D., says:—

"In reference to the Students of the Church of Ireland attending Queen's College, Belfast, during the past Session, I have the honour to report that their moral conduct and gentlemanly bearing have been perfectly satisfactory, and the houses in which they have lodged are respectable and well conducted.

"S. EDWARD BUSBY, Clerk, LL.D."

Up till a late period of the Session I had the honour to be the Presbyterian Dean. I have to report regarding the Students under my care in highly commendatory terms. Their demeanour and attention to work were most praiseworthy. In May last I held an examination on the subjects of the prelections which I had delivered during the winter. At this I was able to offer for competition three prizes, provided respectively by Mr. Thomas Sinclair, J.P., Belfast; Mr. William Young, J.P., Fenaghy, Ballymena; and Mr. John Hogg, Belfast. The competition for these honours was very spirited. The result was as follows:—

Pollock, J. J.

The Rev. Andrew Charles Murphy, D.Litt., a distinguished alumnus of the College, has now been appointed Presbyterian Dean of Residences, and will enter upon the discharge of his duties at the beginning of next Session.

The Rev. Joseph W. M'Kay, D.D., Methodist Dean of Residences, reports thus—

"I have, as in the past year, distributed the names and residences of the Students under my care amongst the several Ministers to whose Congregations they have attached themselves and who have taken them under their pastoral charge. Many of them come under my more immediate cognizance, and I am happy to say I have nothing that is not favourable to report. Their general conduct has been satisfactory.

"JOSEPH W. M'KAY, D.D."

The Rev. Alexander Gordon, M.A., Dean for the Association of Irish Non-Subscribing Presbyterians, says:—

"As the Association's Dean of Residences in this College, I have nothing of a special kind to report, in regard to the past Session. The conduct of the Students under my charge, so far as it has come under my observation, and their attention to their duties, require no detailed comment, but have been on the whole very satisfactory.

"ALEX. GORDON, M.A."

The provision made by the Statutes of this College for the religious instruction and supervision of the Students is of a very extensive kind. Men belonging to the various denominations pursue their literary and scientific studies side by side in our class rooms, and are thus trained in those habits of mutual respect and tolerance which, desirable everywhere, are so especially necessary in Ireland. While this is so, due arrangements are made for proper attention being paid to their religion and morals. The Registrar, at the beginning of each Session, furnishes the Deans of Residences with lists of the names and town addresses of the Students belonging to their respective Churches, and the Council provides rooms in the College where the Deans have the opportunity of regularly meeting with them, and training them in the distinctive tenets of their particular creeds.

THE "LITERARY AND SCIENTIFIC SOCIETY."

A factor of no small moment in the life and work of the College is the Literary and Scientific Society, which has now been in existence for forty years, and has in its own way contributed in a notable degree to the culture and training of the Students. Not a few men who now occupy high positions on the Bench, in the Pulpit, at the Bar, and in other walks of public life, have acknowledged their indebtedness to it. The Society had, I am glad to say, a very prosperous Session last winter, under the presidency of Mr. R. T. Martin, B.A. His Excellency the Marquis of Dufferin and Ava, K.C.B., K.P., is, along with myself, Patron of the Society, and has shown his interest in it by not a few acts of kindness which are very gratefully remembered.

DEATH OF THE REV. DR. PORTER.

On 16th March last the College was deprived, by death, of the services of the Rev. Josias Leslie Porter, D.D., LL.D., who had been its President since the year 1879. During his term of office he was unwearied in his efforts to promote all the interests under his care, and his large educational experience, practical wisdom, and great administrative ability enabled him to do the College signal service. The Professors, in conjunction with myself, have commissioned Mr. Richard Hooke, the eminent artist, to execute a painting of Dr. Porter for the Examination Hall. His name and memory will not soon be forgotten among us.

VISIT OF H.R.H. PRINCE ALBERT VICTOR OF WALES.

In May last I had the honour of presenting the following address, on behalf of the College, to His Royal Highness Prince Albert Victor of Wales, on the occasion of his visiting Belfast:—

“TO HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS PRINCE ALBERT VICTOR OF WALES.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR ROYAL HIGHNESS:

We, the President and Council of Queen's College, Belfast, joyfully unite with the other public bodies of this City in tendering to Your Royal Highness a loyal and hearty welcome, on the occasion of your revisiting the capital of Ulster.

Four years ago we had the honour of receiving Your Royal Highness within the walls of the College, along with their Royal Highnesses the Prince and Princess of Wales. That visit will long be remembered, not only by ourselves, but by the Students, and we can assure Your Royal Highness that the sentiments of devotion to the Person and Throne of Her Majesty the Queen, and of ardent pleasure at the presence of our illustrious visitors, which were expressed on that occasion in the address presented in the name of the College by the late lamented President, the Rev. J. L. Porter, D.D., LL.D., remain unabated to this hour.

Your Royal Highness will, we are confident, be glad to know that this College, which bears the name of Her Majesty the Queen, continues to realise the wish expressed by Her Majesty on its behalf on the occasion of Her Majesty's visit to it forty years ago—the wish that it might promote “the better advancement of learning among all classes in Ireland.” Young Ulstermen, and, we are happy to add, young Ulsterwomen, with others, not only from the remaining three Provinces of Ireland, but from other countries, resort to it in numbers which show, at the end of each decade of its history, a steady and gratifying average increase. Youths of all creeds and classes have free access to its Class-rooms and Honours without distinction, and the value of the instruction which is imparted in the various Faculties of Arts, Medicine, Law, and Engineering is attested, not only by the large share of the Honours of the Royal University of Ireland and other seats of learning which our Students succeed in gaining, but perhaps still more conspicuously by the distinguished positions in the learned professions, and in many departments of Her Majesty's service at home and abroad, to which alumni of this College have attained, and which they are occupying, with credit to themselves, honour to their alma mater, and advantage to the public welfare. We hail the visit of Your Royal Highness as another indication of the interest felt by the Royal House in this part of Her Majesty's dominions. Of such visits we cannot have too many. On behalf of this College we can confidently assure Your Royal Highness that whenever Your Royal Highness is pleased to come amongst us Your Royal Highness will receive at our hands the traditional Cead Mìle Fàilte, which we fervently extend to Your Royal Highness to-day.

Signed on behalf of the President and Council of the Queen's College, Belfast.

THOMAS HAMILTON, M.A., D.D., President.
J. PURSER, LL.D., Registrar.”

This address His Royal Highness was pleased to receive very graciously.

THE NEEDS OF THE COLLEGE.

I feel it to be my imperative duty to call prominent attention in this Report to the manner in which this College suffers from the want of that increased accommodation in several of its departments which its success has rendered absolutely necessary. My lamented predecessor, year after year, urged Your Majesty's Government to provide the additional buildings which are required. I cannot do better than quote here the following sentences on the subject, from his Annual Reports:—

Five years ago he said—

"I regret that I am again compelled to report to Your Majesty the utter insufficiency of the accommodation provided in several important departments of the College. For Practical Chemistry, Physics, and Histology it may be truly said that we have no proper laboratories or appliances. . . . The Royal Commissioners on Technical Education, when visiting Belfast recently, saw the glaring want, and expressed a strong opinion that it ought at once to be supplied. Complete laboratories would add materially to the efficiency of the College, and also indirectly to the promotion of the manufacturing interests of the town and surrounding country. The Act of Parliament under which this College was founded provides:—

"That the Commissioners of Public Works in Ireland shall be Trustees for the purpose of providing any buildings necessary for the College . . . and for repairing, enlarging, and improving the same from time to time, and for upholding and furnishing the same from time to time."—(3 and 9 Victoria, ch. 66)."

"The carrying out of this provision is all I ask. I ask it in the interests of education. To refuse the small amount of requisite funds is, I very respectfully submit, a short-sighted policy, for the expenditure would be repaid tenfold by an advance in the scientific training of the Students, both in respect to professions and business pursuits. The Medical School suffers most, but all departments of the College feel more or less the deficiency in accommodation for laboratory and practical work.

"Large subsidies have been given recently by Parliament to the Universities of Edinburgh and Glasgow, and they have been wisely given, for the country will benefit thereby. Large sums have also been voted for the buildings of the Royal University in Dublin, where there is no teaching and no practical work, and where vast halls must remain unoccupied for most of the year. But Belfast appears to be overlooked or forgotten. Yet its class-rooms are overcrowded. Its laboratories are not capable of properly accommodating a tithe of the Students in attendance. The departments of Chemistry, Anatomy, and Physics are starved and stunted, and the museums for the study of Mineralogy, Geology, and Biological Science—all so vitally important to a College, and so essential in the educational interests of the nation—are defective, owing chiefly to lack of space for the proper arrangement and distribution of the admirable specimens accumulated by the industry and skill of the Professors. I venture to express the earnest hope that the Commissioners of Public Works may receive instructions to have our wants supplied, so that the College may be no longer crippled in its career of usefulness."—Report for 1883-4.

Last year Dr. Porter expressed himself thus:—

"While recording successes, I feel it to be my duty to call special attention to the difficulties with which we have to contend. Several of the Professors have been seriously retarded and crippled in their work by insufficient laboratories and defective apparatus. The number of our students, combined with the requirements of modern education, has far outgrown the capacity of the buildings. The Physical, Histological, and Biological Laboratories are miserably insufficient. The Chemical Laboratory is so small that it has not accommodation for one-third of those in attendance, and others are thereby prevented from entering. The Professors are subjected to great inconvenience, and to much extra labour. In fact, they are unable to carry on their most important educational work with that efficiency and complete success after which they most energetically strive. Practical training in several departments of science is now absolutely necessary, not only to obtain high-class University degrees, but to fit young men for the business of life. Queen's College ought in this respect to be fully equipped. It is situated in a town growing with amazing rapidity, filled and surrounded by great manufactories, which form the chief sources of the wealth and prosperity of Ulster. A comparatively small grant toward the enlargement and equipment of our laboratories would enable us to carry out still more successfully than heretofore the great purpose for which the College was founded and endowed; and it seems to me to be a short-sighted policy to enfeeble and starve an institution which has shown itself to be in all respects worthy of public support."—Report for 1887-'88.

I find that plans for the new buildings which are required were prepared, some years ago, by the architect of the Board of Works, and approved of by the authorities of this College, and an estimate of the cost of the entire work procured. The required sum, it appears, would only be some £8,000.

Notwithstanding the late President's repeated and urgent representations, and the continuous growth of the College, as exhibited by the statistics which I have already adduced in this Report, scarcely anything has been done to relieve the pressure under which our work is carried on. Professors have much additional and unnecessary labour imposed upon them by being obliged to teach large classes of Students in sections, on account of the inadequacy of the accommodation afforded by the rooms assigned to them. Students are shut out of the Chemical Laboratories for the same reason, to their great disadvantage and loss; and the work of the Biological Laboratory is actually carried on in the College Dissecting Rooms, there being no other place available for it. I cannot too strongly emphasise the injury which the interests of learning here are suffering through this want of proper accommodation, nor can I too strenuously urge upon Your Majesty's Government, and upon all interested in the promotion of learning in the North of Ireland, the clamant necessity which exists for taking steps to have the very small addition which is required provided at the earliest possible period. It is surely a pity that such an institution as this, which has proved itself so capable of promoting the highest education of the youth of this flourishing and rapidly increasing city, and of the whole Province of Ulster, should be crippled from year to year, and permanently weakened, for lack of an expenditure of some £8,000 or £9,000.

I have appended to this Report, as usual, the names of the Visitors, the President, the Professors, the Deans of Residences, and other officials of the College, together with a series of tables showing—(1.) The Numbers and Religious Persuasions of the Students who have entered it in each year since its establishment. (2.) The Numbers and Religious Persuasions of the Students who have attended it in each year since its establishment. (3.) The Numbers attending in each Faculty during the Session now ending. (4.) The Number of Students who came from each of the Provinces of Ireland and from other places during the present Session. (5.) The Ages of the Students in attendance. (6.) The number of Lectures given by each Professor during this Session, and the numbers of Students attending each class. (7.) The names of the College Scholars and Prizemen in the Session 1888-89. (8.) A list of Degrees, Diplomas, Honours, &c., obtained by Students of the College at the examinations of the Royal University of Ireland in 1888. (9.) A list of sundry Students who have, since 1st January, 1881, obtained distinctions in Universities other than the Royal University of Ireland. (10.) A list showing the length of service, salaries, and other emoluments of the Professors and Officers of the College. (11.) A list of the Benefactors of the College since its foundation, with an account of their various benefactions; and (12.) an account of the Receipts and Expenditure of the College during the year ending 31st March, 1889.

All which is testified on behalf of the College by
